FORM: DP WORLD SPRINT TO GIVE POINTERS TO GROUP 3 CARNIVAL RACE

» Double Orb in Race 5 looks best bet of the day.

Ed Marnane

Today's feature at Meydan, the DP World Sprint, may provide some clues for the Dubai Stakes (Group 3), the first major dirt sprint of the 2022 Dubai World Cup Carnival next month.

Vasari and McManaman, representing in-form trainers, both make plenty of appeal from the bottom of the weights. The former, trained by Musabbeh Al Mheiri, arrives in good form, putting up a good performance having landed a course-and-distance handicap on his seasonal debut last month.

By Muhaarar, he quickened nicely and had plenty in hand when defeating Wufud and 10 others. He's entitled to strip fitter for the race and commands plenty of respect.

McManaman, representing Doug Watson, the season's leading trainer, is a lightly raced, progressive three-year-old. He went close on his seasonal debut four weeks ago, just failing to catch stable companion Uncle Hamad in a driving finish.

That was a highly encouraging performance on his first start on dirt. The son of Dark Angel is entitled to sharper for the experience and has sound claims of going one better in the hands of Sam Hitchcott.

Leading Spirt, trained by Bhupat Seemar, is the choice of stable jockey Tadhg O'Shea of the three Zabeel Stables runners. Winless in five starts on Meydan's main track, he failed to land a blow on his seasonal reappearance at Jebel Ali last month, trailing in fifth of nine behind Al Tariq.

He should strip fitter for the race and if he bounces back to the form he showed in the Al Shindagha Sprint, in March last year, he can't be overlooked in first-time blinkers.

Stable companion Lavaspin, a four-time winner over the course and distance, was a creditable third behind progressive Canvassed and Good Effort in last season's Al Shindagha Sprint. Lavaspin, not seen since finishing unplaced in a turf handicap in April, has fitness concerns, unlike main rivals Vasari and McManaman.

However, he has enjoyed success off lengthy layoffs, twice winning on the back of 230 and 257-day breaks. He has the services of Richard Mullen, Zabeel Stables former No 1 rider who has steered the seven-year-old to victory four times in his career.

Racing kicks off with a 1400m maiden for juvenile fillies. Watson's Minwah looks the one to beat having made a pleasing start at Jebel Ali. The US-bred daughter of Cupid caught the eye when staying on strongly in the closing stages, crossing the line 2.50 lengths behind impressive winner Little Afrodite. She should be able to build on that and it looks significant Pat Dobbs remains loyal.

Watson has booked Sam Hitchcott to ride Nobody's Joke. By Practical Joke, she showed promise behind Little Afrodite on her debut and is entitled to come on for the experience.

Of the others, the Russian import Space Station is a fascinating runner on her Meydan debut. The Tiznow filly, who changed hands for only $6,000 (R95,000) at the 2020 Keeneland Yearling Sale, has experience, finishing third on debut at Moscow in September. If her handicap rating of 85 can be trusted, she can't be ruled out.

Well-bred Shahama, a half-sister to US champion Luckin At Lucky, completes the shortlist, along with Zabeel Stables debutante Tripoli Moon, a daughter of leading first-season sire Profitable and out of a sister to Tapit.

Best bet on the card comes up in Race 5, the 1400m handicap. Double Orb sets the standard on form having run well behind Gentile Bellini on his comeback last month. The form looks rock solid, the winner caught the eye behind the exciting US import Everfast last Thursday, while fifth-placed Monoski wasn't beaten far in a valuable handicap at Sharjah next time.

Trained by Watson, Double Orb tackles a bunch of handicappers who are largely out of sorts and struggling for form. The application of first-time blinkers could spark further improvement, and he can open his UAE account at the fourth time of asking under Pat Dobbs.

Ed's bets

Best Bet: Race 5 No 2 Double Orb

Best Value: Race 2 No 8 Al Maroom

Best Swinger: Race 2 No 8 Al Maroom and No 1 Lake Causeway

Jackpot R16 (Races 3 to 6)

Leg 1: 1, 3, 4, 9

Leg 2: 7, 8

Leg 3: 2

Leg 4: 1, 3

Purton scores record-equalling third win in IJC

Hong Kong - Zac Purton has joined Douglas Whyte and Frankie Dettori as a triple winner of the Longines International Jockeys' Championship, claiming the title without a victory in the four-race series at Happy Valley yesterday to add further lustre to a phenomenal resume.

Four days after overtaking Whyte as the winner of the most prizemoney as a jockey in Hong Kong racing history, Purton amassed 22 points with three seconds and a third under the 12 points for a win, six for second and four for third format.

The Australian's consistency propelled him to a third title in five seasons in the HK$800,000 series, having previously triumphed in 2017 and 2020.

With second placings on Glorious Lover, Amazing One Plus and Shining Gem and a third on Circuit Seven, Purton outpointed the winners of the four individual championship legs - Tom Marquand, Hollie Doyle, James McDonald and Mickael Barzalona - who shared a four-way tie for second with 12 points each.

Lyle Hewitson finished fourth in the opening leg to earn four points but failed to secure any more top-four finishes in the other three legs.

Purton, 38, earned HK$500,000, while the runners-up collected HK$75,000.

David Hayes claimed the trainers' championship prize of HK$200,000 with a win - Awesome Treasure - and two thirds to finish with 20 points, eight clear of John Size, Caspar Fownes, Manfred Man and Ricky Yiu (12).

Purton was elated to prevail again despite the frustrating run of minor placings.

"I came here a little bit worried about the quality of horses I was riding and knew that I was going to need things go my way and luckily I was able to get some nice runs on them and give them their chances," he said.

"It was a bit frustrating I kept getting beaten in those photos, but I suppose that makes for good racing and a good competition. The points added up, it's very satisfying."

In an engrossing battle for supremacy, defending champion Purton was one of seven riders with a mathematical chance of winning the series heading into the last leg, leading with 16 points, with Marquand, Doyle and McDonald locked in a three-way tie for second with 12 points.

Alexis Badel (six), Ryan Moore and Joao Moreira (four each) also had the chance to overtake Purton.

But Barzalona's driving finish on John Size's Elon in the final leg enabled the Frenchman to snare 12 points, leaving Purton to clinch the series with six points for second on Shining Gem with Moore receiving four points for Hong Kong Bet's third.

In a competition where visiting riders won all four legs, Englishman Marquand shot to the top of the table with victory on Hayes-trained Awesome Treasure in the first leg, a Class 4 handicap over 1000m, claiming the maximum 12 points. Badel collected six points aboard Fabulous Eight, with Purton scooping four points on Circuit Seven.

Hayes, who celebrated a double at the meeting, was delighted to share victory with Marquand, who rode in Australia for the dual Hong Kong champion trainer in 2019.

"I had a bit of luck with him (Marquand) when no-one knew him in Australia. I loved his strength that last 200 (metres)," said Hayes, who also snared a Happy Valley brace last week.

"It's nice to keep things moving and long may it continue."

Marquand said: "My first foreign forays were down in Australia for David when I'd had just under a year's riding and I had a bit of success there. It's absolutely great to be back riding for him here."

"This win ranks extremely highly in my career because riding against the world's best jockeys, it's pretty hard to top."

Doyle soon matched her fiancée Marquand's feat, displaying tremendous strength aboard Manfred Man's Viva Hunter in the second leg, a Class 4 over 1650m. Purton earned six points for second atop Glorious Lover, while Moore picked up four points on Ai One. - HKJC
